LIST OF SEED GRAINS

Offered for Sale by the Members of the

Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment Association

R. A. MOORE, Secretary

Madison, Wisconsin, January, 1921

The Experiment Association publishes this list of seed growers as a means of furthering the dissemination of the Improved Varieties of Grains, which have by repeated trials and tests outyielded and have been more satisfactory than the common varieties.

Write to Growers for Samples and Prices

Insist that all the seed grains you buy either from grower or dealer have the germination and purity test on the tag. The State law requires it.

Most of Wisconsin's Seed Dealers now handle the Pedigree Seed Grains.

In the case of seed corn no satisfactory sample can be sent which will be fair to the purchaser and grower. Better to order a bushel of the corn and if it proves satisfactory order more.

When you buy seed corn on the ear you know what you are getting. However, good seed ears are hard to find. Do not expect all the corn to look like show samples, such corn would be cheap at $20 per bushel.

DESCRIPTIONS OF THE GRAINS LISTED IN THIS BOOKLET WHICH HAVE UNDERGONE A SYSTEM OF IMPROVEMENT BEFORE DISSEMINATION TO THE GROWERS.

Barley

The varieties listed are of the six rowed type which have proven so successful in this state. They are strong, vigorous growers with large well filled heads supported by a stiff straw of good length. There is practically no difference in the yielding powers of these varieties or their adaptability to different soils. These barleys do best, however, on a fertile clay loam soil.

Corn

Wisconsin No. 12 corn or Golden Glow is a yellow dent corn originated at the Station Farm. The kernels are not so wide or deep as the more southern varieties of corn. Although the ears are not so large as the Silver King, yet it is a remarkably heavy yielder. It matures in about one hundred and ten days.

Wisconsin No. 7 or Silver King is white dent corn noted for its high percentage of seed ears. It is an especially good silage corn and is considered the highest yielding corn per acre. The kernels are somewhat larger than the Golden Glow thus requiring a slightly longer time for maturing.

Wisconsin No. 8 or early Yellow Dent is noted for its earliness. It is not so heavy a yielder as the other varieties nor are the ears quite so large. This corn is adapted to regions where early maturity is desired.

Wisconsin No. 25 Yellow Dent is our earliest variety of dent corn. It originated at the Branch Experiment Station under the severe conditions of northern Wisconsin, and was bred especially for this region.

Oats

The Pedigree 1 Oats are prized not only for their heavy yielding qualities but for a very stiff straw which enables them to withstand lodging. They are adapted to the fertile prairie or clay loam soils where ordinary varieties are apt to lodge. The kernels are not so plump and large as the Swedish Select strain but the abundant yields make it one of the most popular varieties. The kernels are white, rather long with a medium hull.

Pedigree 5 Oats have originated from the old Swedish Select varieties. They are a very high yielding plump white oat with a stiffer hull than the Pedigree one. These varieties are adapted to lighter soils or soils less liable to cause lodging.

Pedigree 7 Oats are a selection from the hardy and early Kherson variety. They are especially adapted for rich soils likely to cause lodging, and where earliness is especially to be desired.

Rye

The Pedigree rye far outyields the ordinary varieties of rye growing in this state. It has an extremely long head well filled with large plump kernels. The straw is tall and of the best quality. This rye is a fall or winter variety and should be sown from Aug. 20 to Oct. 1.

Wheat

Pedigree 2 Turkey Red is a hard winter wheat with exceptionally fine milling qualities. It outyields any other variety of wheat in southern Wisconsin.

Pedigree 408 Basca winter wheat was bred in northern Wisconsin. It is our best yielding wheat for this section, and possesses excellent milling qualities.
